

SENIOR HUMOR

Valentine's Day Dream

After she woke up, a woman told her husband, "I just dreamed you gave me a diamond necklace for Valentine's Day. What do you think it means?"

"You'll know tonight," he said.

That evening the husband came home with a small package and gave it to his wife. Delighted, she opened it--to find a book entitled "The Meaning of Dreams."

Hymns for Her

One Sunday a pastor told the congregation that the church needed some extra money and asked the people to prayerfully consider giving a little extra in the offering plate. He said that whoever gave the most would be able to pick out three hymns.

After the offering plates were passed, the pastor glanced down and noticed that someone had placed a $1,000 bill in offering. He was so excited that he immediately shared his joy with his congregation and said he'd like to personally thank the person who placed the money in the plate. A very quiet, elderly and saintly lady all the way in the back shyly raised her hand. The pastor asked her to come to the front. Slowly she made her way to the pastor. He told her how wonderful it was that she gave so much and in thanksgiving asked her to pick out three hymns.

Her eyes brightened as she looked over the congregation, pointed to the three handsomest men in the building and said, "I'll take him and him and him."

Who Should Make the Coffee?

A man and his wife were having an argument about who should brew the coffee each morning.

The wife said, "You should do it, because you get up first, and then we don't have to wait as long to get our coffee."

The husband said, "You are in charge of the cooking around here so you should do it, because that is your job, and I can just wait for my coffee." Wife replies, "No, you should do it, and besides it says in the Bible that the man should do the coffee."

Husband replies, "I can't believe that! Show me."

So she fetched the Bible, and opened the New Testament and showed him at the top of several pages, that it indeed says, "HEBREWS."

SENIOR LIVING MINISTRIES

Poor ol' Charlie Brown; staring into his mailbox on Valentine's Day, hoping to find a Valentine. He never does. And when he yells "hello" into the mailbox, the only answer he gets back is his own echo. "Happy Valentine's Day!" Man, that's an oxymoron for Charlie, and for lots of real-life folks.

No doubt Valentine's Day is special and romantic for lots of people. Just ask the local florist. And at that point, even Mr. "Nomance" at least coughs up some coins for a card or some candy. Maybe even a candlelight dinner at McDonald's.

But for too many, a holiday about love is a taunting reminder that there's no one there to send you a Valentine. Maybe because they're gone, maybe because they left, or maybe because there just isn't anyone at this point.

In the greatest act of love in human history, the Bible says, "He carried our sins in His own body on the tree" (1 Peter 2:24). He didn't deserve that cross. I didn't deserve to have God's Son dying in my place. But He did. Then, three days later, He walked out of His grave. And when I invited Him, He walked into my life and He will never walk out.

This may be the love you've spent your whole life looking for. This could be the day you experience that love for yourself. You open up to Him and say, "Jesus, I'm Yours."

There is an unloseable love, but only one. A love that will never desert you, never divorce you, never die on you. His name is Jesus.

Twice As Sweet

On Valentines Day, we show our love;
We express our deep affections.
Those who are important to us
Get cards and sweet confections.

But Christian love is not just for
The ones we hold most dear;
Jesus said "love everyone;"
He made that very clear.

For Christians, it is every day
We should care and love and serve
Everyone we meet in life,
Whether they do or don't deserve.

Let's follow Jesus' good command
To love everyone we meet.
Valentine's Day every day
Will make life twice as sweet.

10 Things You May Not Know About the Winter Olympics

- 1.) Denver won—then rejected—the 1976 Winter Olympics: In 1970, the International Olympic Committee selected Denver over three other candidates to host the 1976 Winter Olympics. Denver stepped down as host of the Games, which were switched to Innsbruck, Austria.
- 2.) Figure skating and ice hockey were originally part of the Summer Olympics: Two of the most popular sports on ice actually made their Olympic debuts during the Summer Games. Both sports shifted to the Winter Olympics when they debuted in 1924.
- 3.) Horses and dogs once participated in the Winter Games
- 4.) A lack of snow required military intervention in 1964: A lack of snow threatened the 1964 Games. The Austrian army scaled nearby snow-capped mountains and carted more than 50,000 cubic yards of snow to the ski courses and 20,000 blocks of ice to the luge and bobsled tracks.
- 5.) Only one country has ever boycotted a Winter Olympics: Taiwan refused to participate in the 1980 Lake Placid Games after the International Olympic Committee prohibited it from being called the Republic of China.
- 6.) West and East Germany competed together on three occasions: The two countries on opposite sides of the Iron Curtain competed together as the Unified Team of Germany in both the Winter and Summer Games in 1956, 1960 and 1964.
- 7.) Norway has captured more gold medals than any other country.
- 8.) Only one person has ever won gold in both the Winter and Summer Olympics: American Eddie Eagan captured gold in boxing in the 1920 Summer Games, and was a member of the four-man bobsled team that won at the 1932 Winter Olympics
- 9.) It took 82 years for a British curling team to receive gold medals.
- 10.) Two men's hockey teams from the United States arrived at the 1948 Games.
